MRS. ROBERT (YVONNE) WALKUP underwent major surgery at Herrick hospital on May 1.

J. J. STURGEON, PG&E official and member of Albany Rotary club, will receive an honorary award from District Manager George Conner, for completing 25 years of service to the company and his community, according to Rota-News. Congratulations!

TODAY is Albany Scroptmist Day at Races. They always have such a good time. Can't go for lunch, but maybe later. Couldn't make it to Albany Day, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, but picked horses on paper. How could I lose with Nancy and John horses running? I didn't lose on paper, but didn't win anything either.

ALONG comes Ginger Drozd with yet another opportunity at the races: American Legion auxiliary day will be Friday, May 24. . . and I'll be in San Francisco. If YOU can make it, call Ginger at 526-5667 for tickets at $6.50. The public is invited. Lunch in the Turf Club and admission is included.

MRS. FRANK (BETTY) McLaughlin has had major surgery at Albany Hospital. She may be home by the time you read this.

ALBERT and MADELINE Dreyer, who have given Albany two Maids of Albany, moved to bed Bluff over the weekend. After 17 years in our town, they are moving into a mobile home close to their daughter, Sharon, and son-in-law, Bill Williams, who are expecting their first baby in June.

PURSELL'S has now been taken over by a new dress shop, Pauper's Palace, which opened over the weekend.

FERN LUOMA and her sisters were near the stage at the Nugget in Sparks the other night, when Robert Goulet was featured. The handsome singer sang and talked to Fern, making her an instant celebrity. After the show, she overheard people saying, "That's her," and pointing at her.

SCROPTMISTS WILL install Grace Dinsdale as president for another year on June 18. Other officers include Beulah Belling, first vice president; Patricia George, second vice president; Geraldine Hollick, recording secretary; Irene MacWilliams, corresponding secretary, and Betty de Luchi, treasurer.

Eight County Mayors Reorganize in Albany

By Dorothy Larimer

With eight new members, including three former mayors recently re-elected to that post, Alameda County Mayors' Conference met in Albany last Wednesday night to reorganize for the coming year.

Albany's mayor, Richard O. Clark, who formerly held that post and is a past chairman of the conference, joined Don Dillon of Fremont and Tom Kitayama of Union City as council members newly named as mayors of their cities again.

The group elected James E. Balentine of Newark as chairman. Last year he was second vice chairman. Chairman Leo Howell of Hayward, who was defeated by Ilene Weinreb, the only woman mayor in the county, returned to conduct the election, but did not stay for dinner.

Scholarship Luncheon Hugs Success

The recent Albany High PTA scholarship luncheon was well attended and a financial success.

Winners of prizes included Audrey Whiteman, crocheted afghan; Florabelle Blank, pink rose corsage; Elma Herman, champagne; Dorothy Irvin, candy dish; Ruth Schwab, corsage; Bill Louie, painting.

The PTA thanks the following for their donations: Cornell PTA, AHS Hostess club, Bettie Nelson, Jennie Niemala, Joseph Poirie, Alice Quan, Jim Simmons, John Thomsen, Florence Wahl, Dusty Helsabeck and the cast of "Carnival" and all who provided food and gifts for the boutique.

A special thanks was issued to Mrs. Vadis Kilker for her novelty boxes made from Christmas cards. A talented Albany resident, she decorates Mira Vista branch of Bank of America at Macdonald and San Pablo in Richmond each Christmas.

ner. First vice chairman for 1973-74 was Emeryville's Donald Neary, who has been replaced by Doyle Hudson.

One mayor quipped during the business meeting, "Incumbent is becoming a dirty word." Only five incumbents are among the 13 mayors. They include Terry La Croix of Alameda; Warren Widener, Berkeley; James Balentine, Newark; John Reading, Oakland, and Jack Maltester of San Leandro.

Other new officers are Maltester, first vice chairman, and Kitayama, second vice chairman. La Croix was chairman of the nominating committee. Balentine was also elected chairman, and Maltester, vice chairman, of the City Selection Committee. That group will make 17 appointments in June.

During the business meeting as the Mayors' Conference, mayors unanimously endorsed Proposition 1, Statewide Recreation and Park Bond Issue. Cities were urged to take stands on Proposition 9 and will discuss AB 2040, creating a regional government agency, at its June session.

Blue Dolphins Swim-a-Thon

On Saturday May 11, the Albany Blue Dolphins Swim Team will hold a Swim-a-thon. The money raised will be used to pay for swim meets expenses, fees and new equipment. Each swimmer will find sponsors who will pledge to pay 2 cents to 10 cents per number of laps that each swimmer is able to complete in an hour. The amount of the pledge will depend on the age and ability of the swimmer.

The Albany Blue Dolphin Swim Team, with coach Jean Rapraeger, started work outs on March 18. The team has some 50 members ranging in age from 7-17 years.

We hope that you will support this effort and will find time to cheer the swimmers on, at the Albany Pool on Saturday morning from 8:30 to 11 o'clock.

Foreign Student Housing Sought

Homes are being sought for 45 students from Madrid who will arrive July 12 to spend a month studying American culture and practicing English here in the Bay Area.

Living with an American family will give these students an opportunity to experience the "real" America and will help many students who otherwise could not afford to come here.

This program is being sponsored by the Foreign Study League, an Education Service of the Reader's Digest.

The program will include local history, geography, business, social problems and arts as well as intensive language study.

Field trips to Muir Woods, the County Fair, on the San Francisco Bay, to the Berkeley Campus and other places of interest are planned.

Families interested in offering housing, or individuals who would like to participate in car pools or in the language program, may call Mrs. Marshall Gardner 845-3754 in the afternoon or Catherine Veatch at 937-8271 in the evenings.

Guests will start gathering for no-host cocktails in the Georgian Ballroom at 11 a.m. Luncheon at noon will be followed by the fashion showing at 1 p.m.

Tickets at $7 may be purchased through the mail by sending check payable to Children's Hospital Branches, Inc. to Mrs. Patricia Graham, 8837 Nottingham Dr., El Sobrante, 94803, with self-addressed, stamped envelope. ## AHS Orchestra Wins Top Honors

Top honors were claimed by the Albany High School Concert Orchestra and Wind Ensemble at the California Music Educators' Band and Orchestra Festival in Castro Valley on April 27. Each group received a rating of I (Superior) as they competed with bands and orchestras from throughout Alameda and Contra Costa Counties.

The Wind Ensemble played the "Serenade for Band" by Vincent Persichetti and "Capriccio Suite," an arrangement of Renaissance dances by Peter Warlock. The Concert Orchestra performed the overture "Music for the Royal Fireworks" by Handel, "Four Dances" by Kodaly, and two movements from the "Carmen Suite" by Bizet.

The judges at the festival, all music educators from throughout northern California, had high praise for the poise and musicianship of the Albany music students. Almost every section received some commendation, with special recognition going to oboist Janet Elliott and first horn Geoff Chin.

"This was an outstanding effort by all our Albany musicians," said their conductor, Ernest Douglas. "They played beautifully and deserved every bit of the recognition they received."

At the California Music Educators' Solo and Ensemble Festival at Cal State, Hayward, earlier this month several Albany instrumental music students also took top awards. Flute soloist Sue Gershenson was awarded a "Superior" and "Command Performance" rating, as was the High School's Clarinet Quartet composed of Patricia Meissner, Greg Hazarabedian, Helen Bel-den and Sheryl Berling.

Receiving ratings of I (Superior) were trumpet soloist Katie Bell, a clarinet duet made up of Patricia Meissner and a woodwind duet with flutist Sue Gershenson and clarinetist Greg Hazarabedian.

Kindergarten Registration

Albany youngsters who will be 5 years of age on or before December 2 should be registered at the school in their neighborhood on Friday, May 10, between 1 and 3 p.m. Parents are urged to register children at this time so that school officials may plan for adequate facilities and teachers when school starts on Tuesday, September 10.

Parents should bring the child's birth certificate and be prepared to fill out health forms which require a record of vaccinations, immunizations, and childhood diseases. Polio, measles (rubeola) and D.P.T. immunizations must be presented. (If a child has had measles, immunization for this disease is not required).

University Village children of kindergarten age who will be living in the Village next year should be registered at Cornell School. These children will be assigned to their school of attendance at a later date. All other Albany children of the legal kindergarten age should register at their neighborhood school. Kindergarten children in the Marin area should register at the Primary School located in the Albany High School building.

Place note that all three and four year olds may have their vision and hearing checked without cost through the efforts of volunteer parents who have been trained to screen children to identify possible hearing and vision problems.

This important service is available on Wednesday, May 15, Thursday, May 16 at 9:30 to 12:30 p.m. and Saturday, May 18 from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. each day at the Albany Methodist Church at Marin and Stannage Avenues.

City Council Council Appoints Charter Review Committee

The Albany City Council voted at Monday night's meeting to appoint fifteen Albany residents to a City Charter Review Committee.

The decision, following a public hearing that examined possible structures for the committee, was passed unanimously with Mayor Richard O. Clark being absent and Vice-Mayor Michael Gleason presiding.

Debate had been heard over the number of people to be on the committee and whether they should be volunteers or appointees.

"The committee must be small enough to be workable," said Councilman Patrick Griffin. According to the recently elected young councilman a committee of more than 15 would probably prove unworkable.

Albany resident Robert Elliot took issue with Griffin's stand. "Why do we have the idea that this committee has to be small to be workable?" asked Elliot. "Whether it is workable or not depends on the leadership that comes from the committee."

Elliot also said he believed that the committee should be completely volunteer.

Louis Bell of 926 Santa Fe disagreed with Elliot on this point.

"The reason for appointing members is to get a good cross section of the community," Bell said. He pointed out that a volunteer committee may not be very diversified.

Each councilman will make three appointments to the committee. Two weeks will be allowed for interested people to sign their own names or recommend others for appointment. The list will be available in the City Clerk's office.

In unfinished business held over from the April 29 meeting the Council discussed the purchase of a three acre site adjacent to the middle school property for recreational purposes.

According to City Administrative Officer James B. Turner the land price is $1.75 per square foot or $228,000 for the three acres. This is the same price that was paid for the middle school site.

This money is currently available, said Turner, from city funds earmarked through revenue sharing.

Elliot urged the Council not to purchase the land because it is not known how much maintenance or capital improvements would cost. Also if capital improvements were desired a bond issue would have to be passed and, said Elliot, Albany's track record shows that a bond issue is not likely of passing.

Councilman H. F. Call encouraged the Council to purchase the land because there was no urgency to improve it and he felt it would be best to acquire it while the price was still low.

In further unfinished business the price of dog licenses was raised to $5 with the exception of neutered animals which would cost only $2.50. A certificate of proof by a licensed veterinarian would be required.

Communications received included a letter from Dario Menketti regarding the civil rights of city employees concerning their right to campaign for candidates.

Elliot wrote a letter requesting that City Officers be accountable for expenses on authorized trips instead of the current policy of just handing over money prior to the trip.

City appointments included Phyllis Lyons to the Library Board and John W. Storrs to the Traffic and Safety Commission.

Under Good of the City the controversial topic of having girls play in Little League was brought up by Councilman Griffin in reference to a letter from a previous meeting by Elliot.

It had been found out that the Little League does officially exclude girls from baseball, though it does provide softball for girls.

Mrs. Beryl Hartman felt that these were discriminatory practices and recommended a phase-in program of girls into Little League starting at the earlier ages.

Mrs. Fern Luoma, a Little League Board of Directors member, expressed the viewpoint that girls were put in too much danger participating in baseball and that softball better served their purposes.

Councilman Griffin moved that the city be directed not to give any permits or use of city facilities to any organization that discriminates on race, creed, color or sex.

Griffin withdrew his motion for lack of a second, but requested that it be directed to the Committee on Affirmative Action for consultation. It will be held over one week.

Still speaking under Good of the City Elliot explained that he had not asked for Turner's resignation as City Administrator but as his other positions as City Engineer and Supervisor of Streets. These two positions were appointed according to City Charter which allows the combination of non-elective offices.

According to Elliot the Administrative Officer position demands full time and for Turner to also be holding these other positions takes him away from his main job.

LIKE FATHER LIKE SON—The romantic ambience of the railway depot has equal attraction for Charlie Tronoff of Albany, and his son, Charlie, 14. In fact, they are lounging (above) in the depot of the Albany Western Railway, in the yard of their home. Tronoff, a former building contractor, and his son built the depot and laid about 120 feet of 15-inch gauge track because "we always wanted to own a railroad."

The Albany Western— A Miniature Railway

Charlie Tronoff of Albany, East Bay Regional Park District Maintenance Supervisor, is one of the few with his own railroad—no Lilliputian, table-top layout, but a real, cross-tied, spiked and ballasted road with rolling stock a man can ride on with his dreams.

The Albany Western Railway, so christened by Tronoff's son, also named Charlie, lies entirely in the side yard of the Tronoff home at 934 Madison Street.

About 120 feet of 15-inch gauge track winds up from between garage and work shop, past a scaled-down depot building, and through a garden of haphazardly mixed flora including artichoke and rhubarb plants, pear and apricot trees.

A mound of earth insulated by a loop of the track is smothered in California poppy, wild onion, and a curious, thriving daisy-like flower which Tronoff can't identify, imported from the chilly heights of Alpine County.

"I've loved trains since I was a kid in Rocklin," says Tronoff, "when I was five, in 1926, I used to watch the trains in and around the Southern Pacific roundhouse."

"I've always kept up my interest," he says, "but it really began to grow when young Charlie, 14, got old enough to go with me to the old West Berkeley station. We started taking rides from there when he was three."

Since the youngster's first meeting with the iron horse, Tronoff and his son have ridden the twin iron ribbons that lace together the western states from California to Illinois and north to Washington, and have traveled the pine and steel stretchery of the Canadian National.

"We'll ride anything that goes on rails," says Tronoff.

The Albany Western took about four years of intermittent work to complete. Rails and ties were salvaged from the Redwood Valley Railway in Tilden Regional Park, as was the body of the hopper car of the two-car cut that trails the gasoline-powered engine.

Grading was all by hand, as were the laying of ties and rails and driving of spikes. Automobile wheels and axles set in circular concrete pits formed the pivots for a pair of turntables used to transfer cars from one track to another in spots where the confines of the yard would not permit the necessary sweeping curves.

A striped semaphore surmounts a pole above the improvised switch at the juncture of the two "main lines."

Tronoff, a skilled craftsman and former building contractor, constructed the depot building, a 12 foot long by six foot wide affair, on heavy skids—just in case the railway has to be uprooted sometime in the future. Inside are a station master's desk, cash drawer, ticket punch and a waiting room with an oak bench that formerly was part of a 12-foot double facing bench in the West Berkeley station.

In back of the depot building are a pair of full-sized baggage carts, also relics from the Berkeley station. The drawers of his oaken roll-top desk and matching filing cabinet, purchased for a total of $61 in 1909, are crammed with old tickets and receipts, timetables, rail spikes and other memorabilia.

The back lot transportation magnate says that the neighborhood kids get a lot of fun out of the railway, but he doesn't attempt to conceal the fact that he's a regular passenger or engineer.

New Discovery

On his first journey in 1492 Christopher Columbus did more than found a New World. He also discovered one of man's most relaxing pleasures — the cigar. Cigars are composed of three parts: a core of blended leaves, called the "filler," snugly bound by a special leaf, the "binder." The finishing step is the "wrapper," an outer leaf of extreme delicate texture, enclosing the other parts. Today, cigars come in a variety of shapes and sizes. If you're not sure which box of cigars to give your husband this Christmas here's a helpful tip: long, slender ones are among the more popular types today.

Sun Policy

Summer is the time to reveal lots of skin. But a bikini, T-shirt or a halter won't show off anything but red skin if you don't protect yourself from the sun. What to do if you're glibbed up too much sun? Apply an anti-septic, anesthetic pain reliever such as Solaraine to relieve the burning. And remember next time to take tanning lotion, hat, sunglasses and lightweight cover-up along with you. Treat the sun with respect and it will reward you with a glorious tan.

Story of J. Loblollyseed

Idabel, Okla.—(HK)— Who ever heard of Johnny Loblollyseed? If he did exist, many residents of southern Oklahoma and southwestern Arkansas could easily identify with him. For the second consecutive year, residents are taking part in Weyerhaeuser Company's seed acquisition drive to meet reforestation needs in the two-state area. Individuals are paid $3 per bushel of ripe, unopened loblolly pinecones. A goal of approximately 41 million to 55 million bushels has been set. Seed obtained through the acquisition program will be processed at Weyerhaeuser's forest regeneration center near Magnolia, Ark., one of the largest privately owned facilities of its type in the nation. About half the seed will be used for growing seedlings in a 30 million seedling-annual-capacity tree nursery located at the complex and used as needed in direct seeding operations. In the 1974 planting season, Weyerhaeuser will reforest 114 million acres in Arkansas and Oklahoma. Roughly 74 million acres will be planted in seedlings, while the remaining 40 million acres will be seeded. Approximately 59.9 million seedlings will be planted directly, not counting seedlings established by seeding.

Tips on Buying a FREEZER

New York—(HK)—With rising food prices and occasional shortages, the prudent homemaker can stock up when commodities are in season or are on sale by storing food in a freezer. Buying meat by the quarter or half-steer can mean further economies.

Many homemakers tend to buy freezers too large for their needs. A 20-cubic foot freezer is a good buy if you plan to buy quarter or half-steers. However, the 10 or 12 cubic foot size is adequate for most families.

Think Seriously

Whether upright or chest-type, think seriously whether you really need a frost-free model. The frost-free feature adds another $50 to the purchase price and up to $50 a year more in electricity costs—negating some of the savings you are after by buying a freezer.

Uprights have more convenient shelving arrangements and take less floor space.

Considering the cost of the freezer, you may achieve little real savings the first year or so. But the freezer is a long-term investment and, if properly constructed, should give you many years of trouble-free service. That is why it's wise to look at the materials it is made from both for easy cleaning and durability.

If the interior material is porcelain-on-steel, it will probably outlast the mechanical parts of the freezer. Also it will not crack, warp, scratch, stain or retain food odors, as other materials might.

Make sure the freezer has a firm door seal. Most now use magnetic gaskets. If you find frost patches forming near the door, call a serviceman and have the door adjusted or replaced.

Tennis, Anyone?

Many summer sports let you exercise while getting a great looking tan. Unfortunately, that outdoor game of tennis can leave you feeling uncomfortably sweaty and sticky at the end of the day. What to do? Begin with a brisk, pick-me-up shower to wake-up your skin and follow with a liberal dusting of Mexsana, a cooling, medicated cornstarch powder. There's no reason why you shouldn't feel perfectly pampered at the end of a vigorous day.

SENIOR CITIZENS

By BOB DAVIS

There will be a Mother's Day luncheon and program at Albany Senior Center, 846 Masonic Avenue on Thursday, May 9. The affair is being given by the men of the Center in honor of all the ladies. There will be no charge for the luncheon which will consist of a toothpick and glass of water, or something equally exciting. To be followed by a three hour talk by one of the men. All ladies (and gentlemen, of course) of the Center are cordially invited. The committee in charge is composed of Jack Quinn, chairman; John Garden, Ed Kotler, George Edlefsen, Al Scharff, Herbert Wilson, Ed Bouchet, Bob Davis, President Nixon, Donald Duck and other men of distinction. The committee is prepared to leave for parts unknown after the party. So come and give them a gala send-off.

On May 13 there will be a trip to South Shore, Lake Tahoe for all senior gamblers, card sharks and roulette experts. The bus leaves at 8 a.m. from the Center and returns May 14. If interested phone 526-1601.

LAW IN ACTION

CARRIER-PASSENGER

The commuter who uses public transit must learn how to survive.

The transit system owes him the "highest degree of care." That is the duty of public transit systems or any common carrier to riders.

That duty not only extends to the running of the bus, train or plane, but to the loading and unloading areas controlled by the carrier. That duty means that the carrier must control other passengers and use high degree of care to prevent injuries by others.

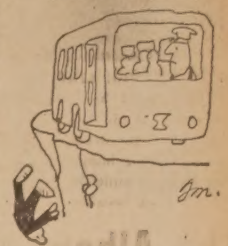

There is a duty to protect against assault by employees, to protect against drunk passengers, to protect passengers from air blasts and other hazards common to the operation of the carrying vehicle.

A person is a "passenger" not only while on the car, but while alighting and until he has safely left it. So there is a duty on the carrier to keep entrance and exit steps clean and clear. They must assist crippled or other incapacitated persons boarding. A bus driver that shoves you on, or lets you off in a dangerous place such as a narrow lane too small for the easy clearance of moving traffic, is violating its high degree of care.

In a recent case, Patsy, an airline passenger, left the airplane to take a helicopter to her ultimate destination. At this large airport she had to walk on an escalator, a moving belt, and across a large expanse to get to the helicopter. The airline did not control those areas which were a part of the public international airport.

Patsy tripped on the damp escalator and injured herself. She sued the airline and lost. There was no high duty of care after she left the areas under the carrier's control or after discharging her into a safe space. The high duty of care ended. The duty of care, if any, was no greater than ordinary care.

Note: California lawyers offer this column so you may know about our laws.

Game Plan
You're going to a baseball game. You pack a picnic lunch, catcher's mitt (Johnny hopes to snare a home-run ball), portable radio and change for peanuts and cold drinks. Now, you're set . . . or are you? The summer skin care experts at Coppertone suggest you pack some suntan lotion. It can get mighty warm sitting on those bleachers, and your family needn't be at the beach to get a burn. While you're packing your tanning preparation, don't forget sunglasses, a hat and something to cover the shoulders of your family of fans. Now, you're set.

Sun Advice
You don't have to go to the beach to get a really bad sunburn. A day outdoors can turn you just as painfully red. What to do? Treat burns with an antiseptic, anesthetic pain reliever like Solarcaine. And remember, whether you're bike riding, playing golf or mowing the lawn, protect yourself against too much sun by wearing a hat, sunglasses and suntan lotion. A sensible sun routine will be your insurance for a happy healthy summer.

SMEI to Sell Free Enterprise

Milwaukee—(HK)—Some of the nation's top sales and marketing people are going to help sell the free enterprise system to American youth, especially at the college level.
Charles W. Parker, Jr., newly-elected president of Sales and Marketing Executives International, said his organization is determined to "help bridge the credibility gap between business and other segments of society." The organization is a professional society that is comprised of 25,000 members in 49 nations.

Mr. Parker, a corporate vice president of Allis-Chalmers Corporation, heads the company's worldwide communications and public affairs activities. Allis-Chalmers, a multinational manufacturer of consumer and capital goods, generates sales of approximately one billion dollars annually.
"All 25,000 members of SMEI are engaged in some form of selling products or ideas," Mr. Parker said. "With all the skills and background these people have, we should be able to significantly counteract the thinking of those who may feel that the free enterprise system is failing by documenting our system's proven values—and at every opportunity locally—on a grass roots basis. Let's get across the real facts about business and industry."

Roll Up Sleeves
He said that the problem was that many Americans didn't understand the free enterprise system and that "business must set the record straight by rolling up its sleeves, and doing something about it, and we, as an association intend to." Parker said that surveys showed that the average American thought that industry is producing 28 percent net income on sales. "Even stockholders think companies are making 25 cents on a dollar," Parker added. "Actually the fact is that a survey by Opinion Research Corp. revealed companies made only about 4 cents on a dollar."

8 WAYS TO TRIM KILOWATTS OUT OF YOUR COOKING.

You use more energy in your kitchen than in any other room. Economize with these suggestions:

1. Make sure your oven and surface units or burners are shut off when not in use.
2. Keep oven doors completely closed until food is cooked. Every time you open the door, the oven temperature drops from 25° to 50° (Oven door windows aid the "peek-a-boo" cook.)
3. Use cooking utensils with flat bottoms and tight fitting covers whenever possible. Be sure pots and pans are the right size for range units or burners.
4. Prepare a complete meal when using the oven—main course, vegetables and dessert. Use foods that cook well at similar temperatures. (Exception: delicate green or leafy vegetables.)
5. Bake and broil from a cold oven start. There's no need to preheat an oven.
6. Thaw frozen meats in refrigerator before cooking. Cook as soon as possible after thawing, and do not re-freeze unless meat has been cooked. A defrosted roast requires approximately 33% less cooking time than a frozen one.
7. Turn off electric surface units a short time before food is done. Food will continue cooking on heat stored in the coils.
8. Never use range or oven to heat the kitchen. That's not its function, and it is costly as well as a waste of energy.

All PG&E electric customers—no matter where they live—get much of their electricity from power plants fueled by scarce oil and natural gas. So it's important for everyone to help save energy wherever possible.

Hearing, Vision Testing For Preschoolers

Parents of Albany preschoolers will have an opportunity to have their three-to-five-year-olds tested for sight and hearing anomalies that can handicap a child without parental awareness. Snellen "E" charts and headphone audiometers will be used to play "games" with the children. If a problem seems evident, the child will be re-screened and/or referred for professional help.

Volunteers trained by Joan Bell, R.N., of Northern California Society for the Prevention of Blindness, Inc., and Don Cazarez of the State Dept. of Health, Family Health Services Section, will do the screening tests. The program is sponsored by the Albany Preschool Sight and Hearing Screening Committee, Co-chaired by Ellen Zepata, Janet Vale and Mary Taussig. "The purpose of the testing is to find and begin to solve problems before they cause the child trouble in school. Most difficulties can be corrected if treatment is begun promptly," said Ms. Taussig. The testing will be done at the Albany Methodist Church, Marin and Stannage, on Wednesday, May 15 and Thursday, May 16 between 9:30 and 12 a.m. For the convenience of working parents, the volunteers will also conduct screening Saturday, May 18 from 9:30 to 11:30. There will be no charge and no appointment is necessary.
